

Investment Objective

To provide long-term capital appreciation.

Investment Strategy

The Fund's advisor will use a multi-cap strategy without regard to whether the securities are conventionally categorized as large-, mid-, small- or micro-cap, or whether they are generally categorized as growth or value stocks.

We believe in old-fashioned hard work with our sleeves rolled-up, not computer screening and “quant” models. We trust our eyes and brain more than a black-box computer model. In fact, we don’t pick stocks, but rather, stocks pick us since we purchase nearly every stock that meets our qualifications.

We seek stocks with what we feel have a high probability of appreciation vs. a stock that possibly could appreciate “if” some catalyst actually happened. We are only interested in probabilities, not possibilities.

We are a “go anywhere” fund; not limited to certain size companies, specific industries or a particular investment style. To increase our probabilities we seek companies with:

- 20% quarterly year-over-year revenue growth,
- 25% quarterly year-over-year earnings growth,
- Trading at a P/E ratio below 12.

If a stock appreciates 100% (doubles) over its purchase price, the issue is sold and replaced with a new name. The Fund does not intend to hold significant cash as long as new stock names can be found that exhibit the growth characteristics and below market price earnings values the managers seek. In other words, unlike many other funds, the managers do not employ any timing or general market sentiment in the portfolio design. Lastly, we treat the Fund like it’s our own money, because much of it is.

Notes

Small-cap and mid-cap investing involves greater risk not associated with investing in more established companies, such as greater price volatility, business risk, less liquidity and increased competitive threat.

Stocks of micro capitalization companies are more volatile, less liquid, involve substantial risks, and are subject to more abrupt or erratic movements than small, mid or large capitalization companies.

As a result of political or economic instability in foreign countries, there can be special risks associated with investing in foreign securities, including fluctuations in currency exchange rates, increased price volatility and difficulty obtaining information.

Many individual securities may be riskier than the market and experience abrupt short-term price movement and may result in possible loss of money on your investment. The Fund’s net asset value, yield and total return may be affected by such movements.
